A) INTRODUCTION

The Bodoland Territorial Region (BTR) is an autonomous council in the State of Assam. It is made up of 4(four) Districts on the below the foot hill of Bhutan and Arunachal Pradesh and predominantly inhabited by Bodo people and other indigenous communities of Assam. Bodos are one of the largest ethno linguistic group in Assam. They concentrated in the Northern the River Brahmaputra though they are have spread all over the North Eastern States of India. They have their own language. They have their rich culture and tradition. The musical legacy is represent their roots and culture. The traditional musical instruments that accompany their soul-string songs are Kham, Siphung, Serja, Tharka, Jotha, Gongona etc. which are very unique.

The Bodo women are very skill in weaving their traditional dresses. The looms for weaving traditional Attire is seen in each and every house of this region. Aronai, Dokhana, Jwmgra, Gamsa are the traditional attire of Bodo community. It has uniqueness and separate identity. Eri silk is abundantly produce in Bodaland Territorial Region. Most of the women of the region spine Eri silk from cocoon. The unique factor is that all activities from rearing of the silkworm to weaving happens within a village ecosystem.

Bodos are food lover. They have their traditional food items. Napham is made by grinding dry/smoked fish with specific leafy vegetables. Their favorite dishes are Onla, Narzi, Khardwi, gawkha-Gawkhi etc.

Bodos prepare traditional drinks(wine) from fermenting boiled rice. Jou Gwram, Jou Gishi, Maibra are the Bodo's Traditional drinks. It has nutritional value and unique taste and flavour.

In order to protect the uniqueness of products/ items & to protect the unauthorized use and thereby protecting the interest of not only the manufacturers but also the consumers & for promoting in the international market, it is very much essential for GI tagging of the concerned products.
